Under the Crag: Discovering the History of Kilnsey

A talk by Jane Lunnon

Kilnsey c 1910

A team of UWHG members are using documentary research to discover more about the rebuilding of Kilnsey in the Tudor, Stuart and Georgian periods. In doing so, we have come across many intriguing and fascinating stories about the people who shaped Kilnsey's past. These include feisty women, ambitious men, and tales of marital strife, pathos and humour. On behalf of the documentary research team, Jane will relate just a few of these interesting stories, and more besides. Jane is a former history teacher, college librarian and copy-editor, who has been a member of the UWHG committee for some years and is actively involved in several local history projects.
